TIM EULER
CITY COUNCIL

November 20, 2026

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

I am grateful for the opportunity to serve as your next City Council representative for District D. For the best results for the future, I endorse Mayor Tom Arceneaux for re-election. I look forward to working with Mayor Arceneaux, who is the best person to lead the city for the next four years.

Throughout my campaign, I emphasized three priorities that I believe are essential to Shreveport's future: public safety, infrastructure, and economic development. These issues are closely connected. A growing economy helps provide the resources needed to improve our streets, strengthen public safety, and maintain essential city services.

As we approach the December 12 mayoral runoff election, please take a look as just some of Mayor Arceneaux's accomplishments during his first term.

PUBLIC SAFETY

- Police Department expenditures have increased approximately 21.7% during Mayor Arceneaux's term.
- The city has reported declining crime in several major categories, including homicides.
- The City Council, has adopted the Mayor's proposal for significant additional pay increases for rank-and-file police officers and firefighters, with the goal of improving recruitment and retention.

INFRASTRUCTURE AND ESSENTIAL SERVICES

- Voters approved a $256.1 million bond program in 2024, including $125 million dedicated to streets and drainage.
- The City has advanced projects funded by the 2021 and 2024 bond programs, with additional construction and improvements planned.
- The administration has continued investing in water and sewer improvements to address aging infrastructure and improve system reliability.
- Additional transportation and roadway safety funding has been secured for improvements across Shreveport.

NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENTS

- Funding for demolition of dangerous and abandoned structures has nearly doubled.
- Litter collection, mowing, and neighborhood cleanup efforts have been expanded.
- The Block-by-Block initiative was launched to coordinate property standards enforcement, demolition, cleanup, and neighborhood reinvestment.
- The administration has placed additional emphasis on improving the appearance and condition of neighborhoods throughout the city.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

- Major private-sector investments have advanced, with anticipated construction activity, investment, and future municipal revenues.
- The administration has made material improvements to the development and permitting process.
- Anticipated new revenues have been incorporated into long-term planning for public safety compensation and other city priorities.

THE WORK AHEAD

Shreveport still faces substantial challenges. We need continued improvements to our streets, drainage systems, and water infrastructure. We need safe neighborhoods, reliable city services, and an environment that encourages businesses to invest and families to remain in our community.

As your Councilman-Elect, I will be able to work well with Mayor Arceneaux to promote cooperation, accountability, and careful stewardship of public resources are essential to our city's success.

I encourage you to vote for Mayor Tom Arceneaux for re-election in the December 12 mayoral election.

Thank you for the opportunity to represent District D. I look forward to serving you.

Sincerely,

Tim Euler
